

February 2026: The 411 Join GLTaC: Remote Technology Internship Opportunity

Are you a driven, tech-savvy student looking for more than just an internship? At Global Language Translations and Consulting (GLTaC), we don't just give interns busy work; we invest in your future. And the best part? You can do it all from wherever you are.

The Opportunity

Join our dynamic IT team remotely and contribute to exciting, real-world technology initiatives from day one. Our internship is designed to last a full semester, with the possibility of extending through the maximum length of your student internship eligibility, because when we find great talent, we want to keep it.

What You'll Do

Working closely with a senior developer, you'll gain hands-on experience with cutting-edge technologies in our industry, including:

- C# development with a strong, skills-based foundation
- Writing queries and working within MS SQL Server
- Utilizing Ajax, Java, and HTML
- Supporting the migration from .NET Web Forms to .NET Core
- Implementing Single Sign-On (SSO) solutions

No two days will look the same, and you'll have the mentorship and support to grow both technically and professionally every step of the way, all from the comfort of your own workspace.

Why GLTaC?

Our previous IT interns don't just leave with experience; they leave with job offers. Many of our former interns have received full-time employment opportunities immediately upon graduation, making this one of the most career-defining steps you can take.

What We're Looking For

A motivated student who is curious, eager to learn, and ready to roll up their sleeves. If you have foundational knowledge in the technologies listed above and a passion for development, we want to hear from you.

Compensation and Duration

This is an unpaid remote internship; however, the professional development, mentorship, and career opportunities that come with it are invaluable, just ask our alumni who are now working full time in the industry.

Ready to Get Started?

Send your resumé/CV to info@gltac.com to schedule your interview. Your career in technology starts here, no commute required.
